
Dedication

The book is dedicated with love to my exceptional Greek wife Vassiliki. She graduated as a psychologist, is most proficient in classical philosophy and fine arts, speaks 5 languages, and is also a top world expert as an artist-painter on fine white porcelain. These skills are also accompanied by an incredible talent in administering property and in maintaining the best possible harmony of a home and family, even during periods without help. All the above is without mentioning her constant noticeable expression of ease, beauty and elegance in all aspects of her life, on a daily basis, and at any kind of private or formal occasion. Without her continuous presence near me, I would never have had the possibility and time to write this book on

The above inevitably means also a dedication to her exceptional father, Joannis Voussinas. In spite of his humble origin, and consequently his limited instruction, he nevertheless was, in terms of his honest entrepreneurial activity and behavior, one of the best souls, and one of the greatest gentlemen I have known in my life. He discretely saved dozens of people around him, including me, from enslavement, that is, from crucial dependence on the debt-money of the evil globalist elite that, in this book, I call the

Most of the people Joannis saved from this kind of enslavement and its ensuing wickedness were ungrateful, and too often only very critical of him. To the contrary, in addition to its main purpose of saving more people from global enslavement, this book shall also be an only complimentary mark of gratitude and recognition for all the help received from this great man. May his good soul be still active in heaven for helping more people to be saved from global enslavement and its ensuing evilness, through his additional celestial intervention for the success of this book in proposing its 30 reforms elaborated to achieve a better form of real direct participative democracy as
